PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear LAS Members

The new Council 2009/2011 started off with a retreat in April 2009 that was attended by both the outgoing and incoming council and subcommittee members. My sincere thanks and deep appreciation goes to the outgoing committee members for the learning points and the handover to the new team. It was a brainstorming and sharing session that was mooted by the outgoing Council as a way to lead the new Council into office smoothly. There was a free flow of ideas and the energy level was high throughout the session so much so that we gathered enough ideas to last us for the next 2 years!

Of high priority was setting directions for LAS for 2009/2011 and identifying the key strategies on professional development, networking and community building and advocacy with participation in career fairs so as to promote our profession. We also aim to strengthen our LAS brand with flagship events and to build a robust support system. Members can look forward to having an online membership database, online renewal and online payment by 2010/2011. We will also work on improving the communications and the operational issues to provide better support for the council members to do their tasks.

We had a very successful flagship event this year with the LAS Tri-event, thanks to the hard work of the Organising Committee that was led by Gene Tan who accomplished this feat within 5 months and Isabella Trahn who chaired the LAS seminar and poster session. There was overwhelming response and thanks for the encouraging feedback. We will definitely source for a bigger venue for our next conference.

Thanks to Joseph Kennedy for leading the LAS Award Panel team who came up with a very detailed awards manual. It was our great pleasure this year to honor 2 outstanding librarians who have shown a high level of dedication and passion and who have been instrumental in shaping LAS. We were pleased to have Prof Tommy Koh, our LAS Patron (since 1994) present the LAS Lifetime Achievement Award to Mrs Rosemary Yeap who made special arrangements to extend her holiday in Singapore. It was our pleasure to award Ms Sylvia Yap with the LAS Professional Service Award.

Thanks to Sylvia Yap and Choy Fatt Cheong who continue to actively support and promote LAS objectives and commitment to promote the professional status with their leadership in the PDS Board and the PDS Working Group. With the strong dedication and commitment of the working group members especially Kim-Chew Ah Too and Ong Juey Ming who conscientiously check all PDS applications and prepare the certificates for successful applicants, 43% of our LAS Professional and Life members have successfully achieved the LAS Practicing Professional award. This has been a great achievement for the association and for our profession.

I am deeply privileged to have worked with a dedicated team of outgoing council members where warm friendships have been forged and I am equally fortunate to be working with a very enthusiastic and passionate new council. With a highly committed mentor and a very caring Immediate Past President, Ngian Lek Choh and strong support from Gene, the Vice President, and a wonderfully bold with an always can-do attitude team of council members, we have managed to organize a series of training programmes and social events throughout the year.

Thanks to a very enthusiastic Programme and Social Committee, led by Sim Chuin Peng, we have at least 1 LAS event per month such as library and educational visits, sumptuous tea reception which facilitates networking, and professional talks. We are pleased that response has been overwhelmingly positive.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Our Membership team led by Soh Lin Li has worked very hard this year in promoting LAS membership, in updating the membership records and working closely with our enterprising Business and Development Committee led by Catherine Tan to bring in more benefits to our members such as the successful negotiation with Borders for privilege card and access to Emerald online database. Catherine and her team is instrumental in raising funds for LAS.

Thanks to our Publications Committee – Yeo Pin Pin and Sharmini, our ebulletin is promptly uploaded and we have launched the first online issue of our Singapore Journal of Library and Information Management.

With Rafi and his dedicated Website team members, our LAS website has more features, updated news and exciting photo galleries. Next to come will be online payment and the LAS community portal.

Special thanks to our Hon Sec, Wong Choy Ming, who has provided excellent admin support and has diligently attended to all email announcement requests.

Finally, thanks to our Treasurer Yit Chin Chuan and Kamil, who willingly volunteered to be our Internal Auditor, we ensure that the funds are well managed.

Once again with our advocacy efforts through career fairs at NTU in 2009 and NUS in February 2010 and thanks to the volunteers who have manned our LAS “Be a Librarian” booth, we have reached out to thousands of fresh graduates to promote our profession.

I look forward to your continued support and participation so that together we can work to progress the objectives of LAS, to promote and unite the profession, to enhance the image of the profession and to strengthen the capability of our members.

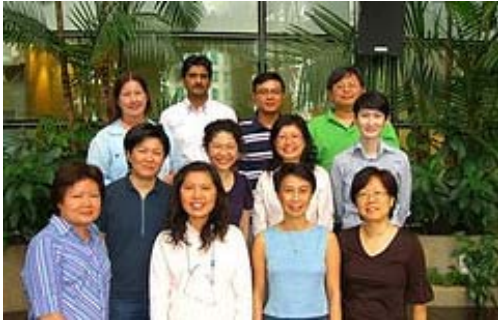

I urge members to come forward and volunteer your time to be active members in LAS committees such as in our Training and Development Committee, working groups and organizing committees.

Do share with us your ideas on how LAS can serve you better. We would like to find out what else we can do to bring librarians closer and how we can develop capability and capacity for our library industry. We have built a momentum over these past few years with either a conference or seminar each year, plus regular professional talks, workshops and varied programmes and social activities. We aim to continue to build this momentum and we look forward to your continued support.

MEMBERSHIP

The table below gives the membership status as of 31 December 2009. There was an overall increase of 4% of the total membership with significant increase coming from the Institution (Others) category. As the membership renewal exercise for 2010 was started in mid October 2009, this percentage growth takes in account new members who joined the Association from mid October 2009.

As it is the first time that the Association offers tangible benefits such as Borders Membership Card for personal membership renewal and new sign up, 58% of the personal members renewed their membership before end November 2009. This allows the membership team to process the membership more efficiently. Many members also reflected they liked the ease and convenience for them to renew their membership at major LAS event such as the LAS Tri-Event held on 16 October 2009. Such an approach for membership drive can be adopted for future membership renewal exercises.

FINANCE

The total income and expenditure for the year 2009 are reflected in the Auditor's Report which is presented in Appendix 3.

The main sources of income were from membership fees ($39,140), sponsorships ($36,407), Training & Development course fees ($8,310), and LAS Seminar/Dinner ($7,388).

The main expenditure items were the LAS Seminar/Dinner ($23,478), Training expenses ($6,846), Tax (6,732), and AGM expenses ($6,328).

The key change to our Association bank accounts is the closure of the LAS Development Fund current account with DBS, which was depleting annually by $30 for each audit check done. We have also closed the HSBC Fixed Deposit Account, as the amount deposited there did not generate a large amount of interest payments. The funds from these accounts have been consolidated and redirected to our DBS Fixed Deposit account with an additional topping from our current funds to form a $200,000 6-month-deposit placed over and above our current deposit of $92,000 12-month-deposit.

12. Online Payment. Council agreed in-principle to implementing PayPal for online collection of membership fees for renewal. However, this would require a change to the constitution which would have to be passed at the AGM to allow online payment for membership fees.
13. Collaboration with Borders. Council approved proposal to take up offer from Borders for a 1-year membership of the Borders Preferred Card (BPC) to the LAS at a special price for LAS members. In exchange, LAS will give Borders exhibition space at the LAS Product fair.

There was strong support from a total of 16 volunteers from MDIS, NLB, NTU, NUS, NIE, NYP, SPH, SMU and TP libraries. The booth was aptly named "Be a Librarian!" and the cost was shared by WKWSCI.

The Singapore Libraries Bulletin Editor was Sharmini Chellapandi (National Library Board). The bulletin continued to be published on an online blog platform. With contributions from members, LAS Committee Members and LAS Council Members, we were able to publish articles published every month.

5 Special Libraries Section (SLS) Committee

- 5.1 The SLS Committee held 2 meetings so far, on 23 Apr and 2 Jul 2009. After the 2nd meeting, members agreed that it was not necessary to conduct face-to-face meetings so often as most issues could be deliberated and resolved efficiently over email correspondences. A 3rd meeting will be scheduled in Mar 2010.

- 5.2 A Business Librarians Group (BLG) has been formed, following an inaugural tea session with over thirty (30) business librarians from NLB, NUS, NTU, SMU, SIM, EDB, IE Singapore, IRAS, MAS, MTI, Bain & Co., etc. The Group agreed to meet quarterly, with each meeting being hosted and chaired by respective libraries/institutions to discuss one or more issue(s) of interest.
 - (a) BLG has so far met thrice on:
 - (i) 23 Jun 09 at the National Library Board),
 - (ii) 4 Nov 09 at the Nanyang Technological University, and
 - (iii) 26 Feb 10 at the Singapore Management University.

REPORTS OF LAS COMMITTEES

In crafting the above ToR, due consideration has been given to the following points:

- Aspects of cooperation to include resource sharing where feasibly possible.
- As part of professional development, members are encouraged to share their experiences of conferences which they had attended.

(c) The Scope of Participation, which is as follows, would include only people working in business libraries and information centers in Singapore for a start:

- (i) Business libraries and information centers providing business and related information services to their users.
- (ii) Librarians and information professionals engaged in the provision of business and related information.

5.3 On 16 July 09, SLS and the Law Librarians Group (LLG) jointly organized a sharing session on creating a customized current awareness service using RSS feeds. The session was conducted by Charlotte Gill of SMU Library. A total of 22 participants attended the training. Besides LLG members, the session was also open to SLS committee members so that those interested can learn and create their subject specific awareness service to be shared with their respective groups. Owing to resource constraints, SLS is unable to open this session to other LAS members. The participants generally found the session to be very useful and relevant, and agreed that they would explore implementing such a service back in their workplace.

5.4 The Arts Librarians Group (ALG) organized 4 meetings cum library tours in 2009 at the following:

- (a) Esplanade Library followed by a tour on 25 Feb 2009

- (d) NTU Library followed by a tour on 3 Dec 2009

ALG also compiled a survey in May 2009 of 7 Art, Architecture & Design libraries in Singapore, collecting data on their facilities, collections and services. One of its other initiatives was to explore the feasibility of having an inventory of artworks collected at various art organizations in Singapore. This project was deemed to be useful for arts heritage in Singapore.

5.5 During the year, SLS worked with Scott Davidson, who represented Special Libraries Association (SLA)'s Asian Chapter, to explore how SLS/LAS and SLA could collaborate for the benefit of both associations. A draft proposal was eventually put forward for LAS members to pay a token sum for access to SLA's web resources and activities in various committees. However, the sum proposed is deemed by SLA as not equitable. Nevertheless, SLS will continue to engage SLA in future discussions to explore other win-win model between SLS/LAS and SLA.

5.6 SLS started an initiative in November 09 to explore collaborative opportunities with service provider(s) to sponsor and host an annual event for members in its various groups to get together. The objective is to foster a closer working relationship with special librarians and information professionals, and to establish a collaborative platform that facilitates open communication, knowledge sharing and innovation. Possible programs could include:

- (g) Library Systems Sharing – admin support (July 2009)

6.4 LAS places have been negotiated at the NLBA Writing for Social Media (NLBA) March 2010, as the content was very similar to a proposal put to the presenter. One other workshop which failed to meet the minimum registrations was withdrawn prior to the date. Papers from the Libraries for Tomorrow are being published.

6.5 Preparations are underway to provide the infrastructure required for a regular programme of nationally recognized training modules for support staff due to commence in July 2010. One benefit of being required to meet the criteria set out by the WDA will be improved procedures and administrative support.

REPORTS OF AD HOC COMMITTEES

Activities in 2009

The Professional Development Scheme (PDS) has been successfully implemented in 2009 after more than 2 years of discussion and preparation. 136 members were awarded the status of Practicing Professionals (PP) under the inaugural implementation which ended in Dec 2009. All applications were examined by the PDS Board and openly scrutinized by members. The total number of PPs is 43% of eligible LAS membership. Their names and the status expiry dates are listed in the LAS Website. It is also heartening to note that 2 retirees, Mrs Dora Yeo and Ms Chan Chew Ee also submitted their PDS application and became PPs.

The scheme was also well supported by libraries and institutions as shown in the distribution chart of PPs according to their institutions.

	Institutions	No. of PP	%tage of total
1.	National University of Singapore	50	37%
2.	Nanyang Technological University	35	26%
3.	National Library Board	30	22%
4.	Singapore Polytechnic	7	5%
5.	Temasek Polytechnic	10	7%
6.	Nanyang Polytechnic	1	1%
7.	National Institute of Education	1	1%
8.	Others	2	1%
	TOTAL	136	100.0%

The inaugural implementation of the PDS was a valuable exercise as it allowed the PDS Working Committee and PDS Board to work out many details and issues that surfaced during the application process. As a result, a number of rules were amended and fine-tuned gradually. The PDS website at <http://sites.google.com/site/laspds09> provides members with up-to-date information of these changes and also the necessary information regarding the scheme.

An award ceremony was held on 12 Aug 2009 at NLB and the President of LAS, Ms Puspa Yeow presented the PP certificates to successful applicants from the 2008 pioneer batch and the first 2 batches of 2009. The third and fourth batch of successful applicants for 2009 were presented with the PP certificates at the second award ceremony held on 24 Feb 2010 at NLB.

Due in part to the successful implementation of the scheme in 2009, the PDS Board decided to reduce the number of application periods each year as a high number of eligible members have already attained their PP status. From 2010 onwards, there will only be 2 submission award periods – in July and January of each year. Members who are now PP will need to re-apply to maintain their status when their validity period expires.

Libraries for Tomorrow Seminar: Implementing Technological Innovations in Library Services

The half-day Seminar was held at the Pod of the National Library and showcased interesting practices in technological innovations to enhance library services and library management. It was also a forum for librarians to share current trends and challenges in their libraries.

The programme comprised a light luncheon with four paper presentations, five poster presentations and six other posters to be viewed during the luncheon. In

REPORTS OF AD HOC COMMITTEES

In addition, there was a presentation by 3M, the sponsor for the event, and a demonstration.

The four paper presentations covered the development of the virtual union catalogue in Singapore by NLB, an enhanced library database interface by NTU, creation of dynamic subject guides by NUS and services at the Singapore Polytechnic Library.

One of the highlights of the Seminar was the presentation by Ms Ngian Lek Choh, Immediate Past President, of the LAS Professional Service Award to Ms Sylvia Yap Swee Beng, University Librarian, NUS Libraries. Ms Yap was unable to attend the LAS Dinner that evening where the other awards were presented.

Annual LAS Dinner

The Annual LAS Dinner was held at the Pod of the National Library.

The highlight of the dinner was the presentation of the LAS Lifetime Contribution Award to Ms Rosemary Yeap, former Chief Librarian of Singapore Polytechnic and the LAS School Scholarship Award to Mr Herman Falani bin Md Yunos in support of a Master of Science in Information Studies at the Nanyang Technological University.

The Guest-of-Honour for the dinner was Professor Tommy Koh (Patron of LAS and Ambassador-at-Large, Ministry of Foreign Affairs). Other guests include past recipient of the LAS Lifetime Contribution Award, Mrs Hedwig Anuar, former Director National Library.

Overall Feedback

The overall feedback was positive with an overwhelming response for all the events. In the limited time that the organizing committee was given, it was admirable how they managed to pull together their contacts and resources across the library world to deliver the suite of three events. The lack of time did result in some areas of improvement such as the venue selection and the resource constraints.

REPORTS OF AD HOC COMMITTEES

LAS Adhoc Secretariat & Logistics Committee

The LAS Adhoc Secretariat & Logistics Committee was set up in 2009.

Panel Members:

Chairperson:	Ms Wong Choy Ming
Members:	Ms Koh Hwee Keng
	Ms Ho Mui Huay
	Ms Lim May Ling
